MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION FAVORS MEETING MONDAY FOR DISCUSSION OF CHARTER

COUNCIL CHANGES TALK OF CHARTER FLAWS WHEN 1000 COPIES ARE ASKED

Although no official action was taken at the meeting of the Richmond Merchants Association last night, it is understood that members of this influential organization see the need for a change in Richmond's municipal affairs and are anxious for the passage of the new city charter.

One thousand copies of the new charter were requested of the city council by the Merchants Association last night which will be distributed to customers throughout the entire city and also placed at several of the business houses.

When the request for the new charter was made of the council, several of the members gave in open mouthed astonishment. It has been understood by this body that the new charter was doomed for defeat, but with the entry of the Merchants Association into the affair, a surprise was sprung which caused much gossip amongst the council members.

Errors and flaws in the new city charter, talked of by the council a few moments prior to the request by the Merchants Association for 1000 copies of the new document, immediately changed to "how much time would candidates have to file their application for reelection after the charter was passed?"

President H. W. Puleo of the Association is anxious that everyone attend the charter meeting in Puleo hall Monday evening where an impartial discussion of the new city document as prepared by the Board of Freeholders will take place. Officers and members of the Merchants Association are making exceptional efforts to have the meeting one of the largest held in this city for the discussion of important municipal affairs.

ASSESSMENTS
City Tax Collector I. E. Marshall and Deputy Assessor J. O. Ford appeared before the Merchants Association last evening relative to the assessments on stocks and fixtures.

A request will be made of the council by the Association that more signs be placed along Macdonald avenue and other business sections of the city relative to warning vehicle drivers as to the location of fire hydrants. This has been found to be an absolute necessity owing to the many complaints which merchants and businessmen have received from outsiders.

AWNING MATTER.
The matter of having all awnings at a height of seven feet above the sidewalk was also discussed at the Association's meeting which will be remedied as soon as the inclement weather passed. A committee of merchants who will confer with the council regarding the proper heights for awnings was appointed by President Puleo, comprising Fred L. Dineen, Dan Eisenberg, M. H. Dilly and Otto Poulsen.

RAIN HALTS ELKS-CUB GAME TODAY TO BE HELD MON.

Wet grounds were responsible for no game being played this afternoon by the Chicago Cubs and Richmond Elks.

Despite the fact that weather forecasters had predicted clear skies, warm sunshine and all the other factors which go to make up ideal baseball weather it turned out just the opposite.

Bert Curry, manager of the Elks said something very choice about weather forecasters being "bum guessers" and the rest of the fans took on a look which reminded one of epidemic of mumps.

The game in all probabilities will be postponed until next Monday.

DEPUTY FINDS $1300 SEWED IN EXPLOSION VICTIM'S COAT

Sixteen China boys at the California Cap Works are rejoicing today, not because of the explosion, as that spread a pall of gloom throughout the little Chinese settlement at the works, but because their $1300 in savings which one of the Chinamen, killed, had carried in his blouse are still safe.

QUEER CUSTOM
A custom amongst the laboring class which dates back to the reign of the Manchus in China, was carried on by the Chinamen at the cap works whereby one of their number is chosen as the banker and to him is entrusted all the savings.

SEWING MONEY IN HIS BLOUSE
It so happened that yesterday morning before leaving for his work, Joe Yen, one of the victims of the explosion was given $1300 by sixteen of his fellow workers. The money consisted of company checks and paper money. This he carefully sewed in seven places about his loosely fitting blouse.

Although Yen's body was horribly mangled, his clothing stripped from his back, the places where the money had been deposited still remained intact.

Numerous employees passed the mangled form but never so much as guessed the treasure it contained.

DEPUTY FINDS SAVINGS
It was not until last evening when Deputy Coroner Walter Gorham was engaged in preparing the mangled remains for shipment to the Chinese Six Companies in San Francisco that he discovered the money. Officials at the plant were immediately notified and the owners sent to the city morgue to claim their savings.

OF FOUR HURT ONE MAY DIE
Of the four injured by the explosion it is thought that Joe Ham, a Chinese powder worker will probably succumb to his injuries. Pieces over his entire body are said to have been torn out by the explosion. All of yesterday and up to a late hour last night doctors worked over Ham at the Craven hospital.

Sam Wenz, Al York and Geo Ming, injured by the explosion will recover.
Coroner C. L. Abbott has not as yet set a date for the inquest to probe the exact cause of the disaster, awaiting such time as some of the injured Chinamen may be able to leave the hospital and testify as to the exact cause of the whole affair.

COUNCIL ASKS NEW PETITION FOR BAY AVE.
Bay View Avenue in Pullman will not be ordered improved by the city council until a new petition is presented to that body. The street committee reported to the council last night that the petition presented a few weeks ago had been circulated in 1915.

Councilman J. B. Ogborn said: "As I understand it there is a lot of neighborhood jealousy on the street."
NEW GARAGE
H. P. Hillard, manager of the Harrison B. Wood auto sales in Richmond closed a lease yesterday with E. H. Kueffer local real estate operator for a site at Fifteenth street and Macdonald avenue for the erection of a modern garage. The structure will be 50x100 and will cost $5000.

MARTINEZ, Mar. 13.—C. P. Ollis former Standard oil employee at Richmond, charged with a criminal assault upon 14 year old Christina Cano, his sister-in-law was held to answer to the Superior Court on $5000 bonds today.

British Stop Oil Tanker From Richmond

The Archbold was enroute to New York from Bergen, Norway.
This is said to be the first time that a ship flying the American flag on the Atlantic has been denied the privilege of transporting mail from a foreign country.

After relieving the aml the authorities ordered the tanker to proceed on her way.

POLICE JUDGE ASKS OPINION FROM U.S. WEBB
Attorney General U. S. Webb has been asked by Police Judge Hiram Jacobs of this city for an opinion as to whether Richmond is entitled to all or part of the fines collected for violations of the motor vehicle law.

It is the opinion of Judge Jacobs that this city should receive half if not all of the fines collected for such violations. Under the system in vogue at the present time the fines are paid in to the police court and turned over to the county treasurer who allots them out in quarterly warrants throughout the county.

According to Jacobs the violations of the motor vehicle act in this city have averaged between $30 and $45 a month for the past two years.

DEEDS GIVEN CITY FOR NEW ROADWAY ALONG BAY SHORE

The deed of portions of three lots by John Wisdom, Hanna Wisdom and Elizabeth Schinkel, in the Bay Shore tract to the city council last night marks the first step toward constructing a proposed scenic boulevard.
The deed to the new boulevard show it to extend from the south portal of the municipal tunnel to the whale off plant of the Standard Oil company.

$18,000 ESTATE OWNED BY BECK SUICIDE VICTIM

Friends and relatives of Edwin G. Beck, known as Professor Zoroaster, a spiritualist and astrologer, are at a loss to account for his motive in suiciding in the bay waters near Giant Sunday.
Beck, from information which Deputy Coroner E. B. Smallwood received last night was the owner of a $18,000 worth of property in New York and at intervals of four months received large sums of money as income from his holdings.

Telegrams have been sent east by the coroner's office where Beck is said to have prominent relations. No arrangements for the disposal of the remains will be made until word is received.

Manager C. M. Brewer of the Western States Gas and Electric company presented a check for $831.39 to the city last night, which was two per cent of the gross earnings of the company for the past year.

The payment of the money to the council is part of an agreement entered into between the electric company and the city in 1905 by which the latter was to receive two per cent of the company's gross earnings for the supplying of heat and power in Richmond. The company's earnings for the year was $41,500.

S. P. OBJECTS TO PULLMAN DRAINAGE

The company states that this change will only serve to flood their tracks more in the winter time. The matter was referred to the street committee.

ERROR IN CHARGES AGAINST FISHERMEN CAUSES DELAY
An error in filing charges against Luke Petrich and Vincent Nakovich, fishermen of Giant, for violating the state fish and game laws led to the first complaint being dismissed and a new one filed before Judge John Roth today. HURLED INTO ROUGH SEA BY PITCHING OF ROCK BARGE

Barney Mitchell, a derrick man in the employ of the Healy-Thibbitts Construction company lost his life in the bay waters off the Municipal wharf this morning while salvaging a rock barge.

BARGE LEAKING, TRY TO FLOAT IT
Mitchell with H. E. Nelson, superintendent of the construction work were endeavoring to right a water-logged rock barge. Nelson went into the barge cabin for a few seconds to change his overcoat which had been soaked through by a huge wave which had broken over the craft and had left Mitchell holding onto mooring line on the boat. Hardly had Nelson left when the barge gave a sudden lurch throwing Mitchell into the water.

THROW ROPE TO DROWNING MAN
Nelson, threw a line to the drowning man whose hands were just above the water. He came up once, made a grasp for the rope but was

CHICKENS CAUSE FAMILIES TO AIR QUARREL IN COURT
Chickens, property of Bernard Johnson, 2426 Solito avenue, which had run loose Sunday morning were responsible for his being hauled into the police court today on a charge of disturbing the peace, preferred by Mrs. A. Magner, 2400 Solito avenue.

Police Judge Hiram Jacobs concluded the affair to have been a neighborhood quarrel and laid it over pending an investigation as to the grounds for the charges. Johnson is under $25 cash bail as a result of his arrest.

Several witnesses summoned to testify in Johnson's behalf were not called upon to testify.
Johnson's statement of the whole affair follows:

"My chickens had been penned up for a week, after I had been notified by the poundmaster to keep them in and it was only while I was cleaning out the chicken house Sunday morning that they got out of my yard and went into Mrs. Magner's yard. The first I knew of the affair was when I heard someone yelling 'Kill them, kill them!' I went out and Mrs. Magner was shouting at the top of her voice and threatening to kill my chickens. I told Mrs. Magner that I was sorry they had got out and would see that they did not get out again. She commenced shouting for the police. Yesterday Officer Kirkpatrick served a warrant on me for my arrest at the Standard Oil refinery and I was placed under $25 bail.

"I told Mr. Magner that I did not want him to kill any of my chickens and requested that he keep his wife from creating a disturbance with my wife. I am the oldest resident in that neighborhood and this is my first misadventure in a neighborhood quarrel of this kind."

THE CASE OF CHINA

So long has the "heathen Chinese" been a matter of jest in these United States, with no definite knowledge on the subject, that the possibility of that nation's entry into the war on the side of the Allied countries is considered more or less as a matter of mirth. Nothing can be further from the truth.

We Americans claim to be very metropolitan in our views and in our knowledge of American and world affairs. The stranger within our gates and notably the Chinaman, have always been the object of much curiosity. In California, where the Chinese are more thickly settled than in any other part of the country, their country is regarded as a defunct affair incapable of being made one of the greatest nations in the world.

Consequently when China considers the advisability of entering the conflict of Europe, something must be stirring in the minds of the advanced thinkers in the Celestial republic which is worth observing. China may be on the threshold of such a revival as came over Japan and changed that country from an unknown to one of the big factors in the world's business and thought.

China is the greatest natural, untouched storehouse in the world today. Though hardy explorers have penetrated into its most remote quarters, its resources have been hardly scratched. Owing to the lack of railroads in China and other feasible means of communication and transportation and also, of the country's natural suspicion of the stranger, its progress in world affairs has been retarded to the point where it is the one virgin nation, in this respect, in the world.

After being locked up in itself for five thousands years, China has had great difficulty in getting accustomed to commerce and intercourse with the world in general. During the past few decades, however, many of its younger men have studied in Europe and the United States and the desire to be something in the world is slowly but surely filtering through from the top to the bottom of Chinese life.

Potentially, China is great. Actually, China is an unknown quantity and it would be a difficult matter to determine just what she could do to aid the Entente nations.

China has a population of 421,000,000 in an area of 4,287,000 square miles. The peace strength of her army is 400,000 and her reserves 300,000, making available for war 700,000 men. The total available men is 63,430,000, more than any other nation in the world, and twice and three times as many as in many of the European countries. What could not China do if any considerable portion of these men could be trained as soldiers? What effect would a million Chinese soldiers have on either front, officered by Europeans or by Japanese?

From a commercial standpoint China is nearly as backward as in every other matter. According to the bureau of foreign and domestic reports, for the year 1914, Chinese imports amounted to $348,187,350. Her exports in the same period were $215,750,545. What a wonderful change for expansion. China's finances are in no too good a condition. Her revenue in 1915, was approximately $100,000,000, while in 1913 her debt amounted to over $969,000,000.

With her latent resources, including material and men, China might be expected, if given time to prepare, to aid the Allies to a wonderful extent. It would not appear, however, that, at once, she could be of much material aid except morally. A declaration of war on her part would strengthen the Allies position before the world.

In the consideration of the question, however, there is one element missing. That is Japan. Japan is in the position of the small boy leading a giant and untutored blind man by the nose. Will Japan assent to China's going into the war? What will she have to say about the matter? Is the little Niponese empire passive, against or for. Probably these questions will be answered before long by the trend of events both at home and abroad.

HAIL THE POTATOCRATS

With the harassed public busy looking for the causes or causes of the high cost of foodstuffs, popular wrath is at last being turned against the farmers. The potato situation seems to give some reason for accusing the producers of conspiring against the consumers.

An economic expert estimates that four-fifths of the present potato supply in the United States is in the hands not of the farmers, but of the speculators or middlemen, but of the farmers. And there is no disposition on the part of the farmers themselves to deny that they are holding onto their crop for all they can get out of it.

Buyers from Cleveland and Cincinnati, going through the best potato raising section of Ohio, report that the farmers refuse to sell. They say they expect to get at least $4 a bushel for their crop, and $5 a bushel, or more for seed potatoes. The same story comes from other States of the middle west.

In Arrostook County Me., "The mother of potatoes," the farmers are openly rejoicing in the happy turn of fortune that has given power to exploit the consuming public. One of them, in a letter to a Boston newspaper, remarks:

"The cities are rather sore on us because we are getting ten times as much for potatoes as it costs to raise them. But every body's doing it—and Arrostook is certainly making up for lean years."

Perhaps the farmers can't be blamed for charging all the traffic will bear at a time when as the Arrostook potatoer truly says everybody's doing it." But let them take care!

Heretofore the farmer has always had the friendly sympathy of the general public. It may be granted that he has the same right to gouge the consumer that city food-manipulators have. But let him not brag of his power and flaunt his monopolistic gains too openly, lest public sympathy turn to envy and enmity. The farmer and the consumer ought to be friends. They need each other.

Never lend money to a stranger. Steer him gently into the backyard, hand him an ax, and discourse learnedly on the angelic beauties of manual labor. But don't lend him money.

There is no accounting for the extravagance of American women. Cabbage leaves are now being used for personal adornment.

The only neutrality that appeals to us is to kick the fellow who kicks us, regardless of who he is. That's neutrality.

WEDDING TROUSSEUX

NEW YORK, March 12. — Not many Easter weddings have been announced so far, but there will be the usual Spring crop of these nevertheless, and trousseaux are being selected that will represent every last idea in fashionable design, color, and materials. Speaking of materials nothing has been more revolutionary than the way all standards of fitness have been upset in the use of fabrics—Sport things are more often of silk than of worsted cotton, and a melange of most incongruous stuffs and trimmings is quite to be expected where-modish dress is displayed. Anything goes as long as the design is well thought out, and sometimes where lines are a bit mixed.

BARREL OUTLINES.

The barrel skirt is making head-way and one sees all sorts of contrivances added to straight skirts to give the hip bulge and incidentally introduce a bit of midish contrast in color or material. One of the favorite devices is to introduce side panels of silk that differ only from panniers in extending to the bottom of the frock and being only slightly extended at the hip line. The same outline is obtained by girdling the dress with a wide, loose sash of either ribbon or piece silk, and ending it at the side in sash ends slightly draped. These devices and others of similar sort offer opportunity for using short lengths, and for freshening and bringing a passe costume up to date.

THE SET CRAZE.

Very smart and attractive are many of the matching sets seen at exclusive Fifth Avenue Shops. These may consist of hat and bag—hat, vest and bag—hat and parasol, or accessories of almost any sort that one chooses to match up and wear together. Many of the materials are bizarre in the extreme, but we have grown so accustomed to startling color contrasts, and enormous patterns that these are becoming commonplace. This is particularly true of sport toggery so that if one really wanted to be conspicuous in such clothes it could be achieved only by selecting a costume in monotone. Plaids six inches square are not unusual, and polka dots have assumed foot ball proportions in some cases.

SPRING TROSSEUX.

The modern girls trousseau is far from being the tax on her time or resources that her mother's outfit was. No one now has dozens of every item. In fact the smartest trousseaux are made up of comparatively few pieces, so well selected that they are right for every occasion.

The new Betty Wales models with their up-to-date lines, quality and finish offer an excellent opportunity for modish selection and come in materials and styles suited to every dress requirement. Gowns of linen or serge for morning and practical wear; Stunning sport models, and dainty afternoon frocks or silk or lingerie, with distinctive trimming touches which set them quite beyond the usual made up frock, appeal to fastidious people who want fashionable dresses designed on youthful lines.

AN EVENING FROCK.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, sniffing, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

McCall Designs

has the skirt in broad stripe of pink and mauve satin, in the barrel silhouette, gathered into the waist with a full topping the silver ribbon girdle which ends with a nose-gay of pink, mauve, and yellow roses a little at the side. The corsage is a band of silver lace held up by a lattice of amethyst and crystal beads strung on a silver cord. Silver lace makes a narrow frill at the foot of the skirt. This like many evening frocks has no train, but the train is nevertheless constantly more in evidence, always as an attachment rather than a part of the still very short skirts worn.

BIG PIANO MAN VISITS RICHMOND

One of the biggest piano merchants in the United States, Henry J. Ellers of Portland, Ore., president of the Ellers Music company, with forty stores on this coast, paid the city of Richmond his first visit Saturday. He was here in the interest of the special sale of pianos, player pianos and grand pianos now being conducted at 1316 Macdonald avenue by that great piano emporium. He was so much pleased at the growth and development of the thriving and prosperous city that upon his return to San Francisco he immediately sent out five more new pianos to be included in this sale.

"It," as the boys all call him in the piano business, is a big enterprising man every way—mentally, physically and financially, and whenever he undertakes anything it has to go. He said, when discussing the situation with his local representative, Mr. Coker, who is in charge of this sale: "Give the people of Richmond the very best prices possible, and the very best of terms. It is too bad you could not have secured a little better location. But when the people realize that we are out here on a special advertising campaign, and are actually selling pianos at less than one-half the original price, they will more than appreciate our efforts."

It may be added that the Ellers Music company is the pioneer of low prices for the best makes of pianos in the world. It was this big concern that originated the policy of selling pianos at prices which made them less of a luxury and more of a household necessity, within the reach of every wage earner. Adv.

FAMOUS COMEDY TEAM HAVE UNIQUE RECORD

Few comedians in the history of the American stage have enjoyed the success attained by Kolb and Dill, who will be seen at the T & D Richmond theatre on Wednesday and Thursday in the Mutual Star Production, "A Million For Mary," a five act comedy drama, produced by the American Film company Inc., from the story of Aaron Hoffman. Their names are linked with Montgomery & Stone and Weber & Fields as constituting the three great "teams" of the stage.

They were boyhood chums in Cleveland, Ohio, and gained a local reputation in amateur theatricals. In 1899 they began their career with Fred Irwin's Burlesques as eccentric German comedians. They played an entire season and were the hits of the show. The following season they entered vaudeville and the next year appeared on Broadway in the big musical extravaganza "Fiddle Dee Dee," which piece they toured the country in for two seasons.

Other successes in which they have been the stars are "Holly Holly," "Hurley Burly," "I. O. U.," "Pousse Cafe," and "The Beauty Shop." They have played many engagements in vaudeville but have forsaken the stage for the broader field of motion pictures.

"A Million For Mary" offers the famous comedians many opportunities to display their inimitable brand of humor and is the first of a series of big comedies to be released by the Mutual in which they will star.
